CALL FOR PAPERS

CONFERENCE ON

HUMAN-COMPUTER INTERACTION (HCI)

SCOPE

The mission of the HCI Conference is to provide a welcoming venue for established and new scholars under the broad umbrella of human-computer interaction. Our sessions will be developmental, designed to foster the growth of the HCI field and those working to begin or expand their research program. All submitting authors are expected to provide peer-reviews of other paper submissions.

The scope of the conference includes, but is not limited to:

- Analysis, design, development, evaluation, and/or use of HCI devices using any methods (e.g., behavioral) or contexts (e.g., e-Commerce)
- Guidelines for HCI design, including privacy and security enhancement
- Design and evaluation issues for mobile devices and m-Commerce
- HCI design for group and other collaborative environments
- Human interaction with chatbots and other AI systems
- Generative AI and its interactions with humans
- Interface design for generative AI and prompt engineering
- Design for virtual reality (VR), including augmented reality (AR), mixed reality (MR), extended reality (XR) and 3D user interfaces (3DUIs)
- Design for the elderly, the young, and special needs populations
- Issues in the design and development of emerging HCI devices
- Novel forms of authentication and authorization (e.g., raw HCI data)
- Using HCI information and sensors to detect user states (e.g., emotion, cognitive conflict) and create more intelligent designs
- Influence of HCI devices on attitudes, emotions, perception, and behavior
- Applying HCI to overcome challenges related to IS use (e.g., technostress)
- Influence of digital nudges on online judgment and decision making
- Influence of behavioral economics principles and website design implementation on privacy and trust
- Implications and consequences of ICT on individuals, groups, society, and socio-technical units
- Behavioral, neurophysiological, and design aspects of HCI
- Factors influencing usability, ease-of-use and the user experience
- Issues related to teaching HCI principles and courses
- Ethical issues related to the capture of Personally Identifiable Information (PII), behavioral biometric data, and nudging

In addition to the conference, a presentation of technology-related products is also welcome.

The official language is English.

Please forward to your colleagues

Accepted papers presented at the conference will be submitted for inclusion in the IEEE Xplore Digital Library.

ABOUT LOCATION

Opatija is the leading seaside resort of the Eastern Adriatic and one of the most famous tourist destinations on the Mediterranean. With its aristocratic architecture and style, Opatija has been attracting artists, kings, politicians, scientists, sportsmen, as well as business people, bankers and managers for more than 180 years.

The tourist offer in Opatija includes a vast number of hotels, excellent restaurants, entertainment venues, art festivals, superb modern and classical music concerts, beaches and swimming pools – this city satisfies all wishes and demands.

Opatija, the Queen of the Adriatic, is also one of the most prominent congress cities in the Mediterranean, particularly important for its ICT conventions, one of which is MIPRO, which has been held in Opatija since 1979, and has attracted more than a thousand participants from over forty countries. These conventions promote Opatija as one of the most desirable technological, business, educational and scientific centers in South-eastern Europe and the European Union in general.
